

SENATE PROGRESSES WITH RELIEF PLAN

Public Works Bill Passed with Amount Increased to $118,000,000.

week. The total was increased from $10,000,000 to $118,000,000, a paragraph granting the President power to shift allocated amounts to any project he deemed most in need was taken out and a provision added for employment of 100,000 men on all projects covered.

Senate Republican leaders conferred yesterday principal to set aside the discord between the party ranks. There were strong feelings on the subject of the Hoover statement and the course debate on it took. Some said Mr. Hoover should not have issued the warning he did without consulting his colleagues in Congress. Others thought he should have been defended far more vigorously against the Democratic attacks.

The upshot of the party was that Senator Watson of Indiana, the party leader, took to the President an assurance of Republican cooperation in keeping relief legislation within bounds.

At the President's suggestion Chairman Wood of the emergency employment committee and other government men working on related problems are to be heard by the various Senate committees which have before them relief proposals of various types. This suggestion was communicated to Senator Watson. The idea was viewed as a means of getting clearly before the Senate the administration's reasons for what it wishes done and left undone.

TILSON HITS BILL

Terms $60,000,000 Proposal "Pipe Line Into Treasury."

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Dec. 12.—A pipe line into the treasury was the description given the house today by Republican Floor Leader Tilson to the Senate's $60,000,000 relief bill.

He condemned especially the provision for loans for food and clothing.

"The high-principled and industrious will insist on treating it as a loan and will cripple themselves in an attempt to repay it," he said. "The idle and shiftless will accept it as a gift and live off the federal government as long as the opportunity exists."

every morning to have the business going every day.

In the east, President is a great industrial genius. No doubt about that and he is most welcome.

From New York he goes to the Pacific coast. American President, Mr. Coolidge, the last, was a great puzzle.

The present we know that this country is a state continuing the new and for the welfare of the people. Employment, economy, etc., is best as reported in our parts of the country. It is the duty of the country to feed, if it can't employ those that work now to the many or few.

A job of its kind should be undertaken by the government and the best agency for distribution of food and organization of relief would be the army and navy.

Such work done by the navy during the war on occasions of accidental disaster was done admirably.

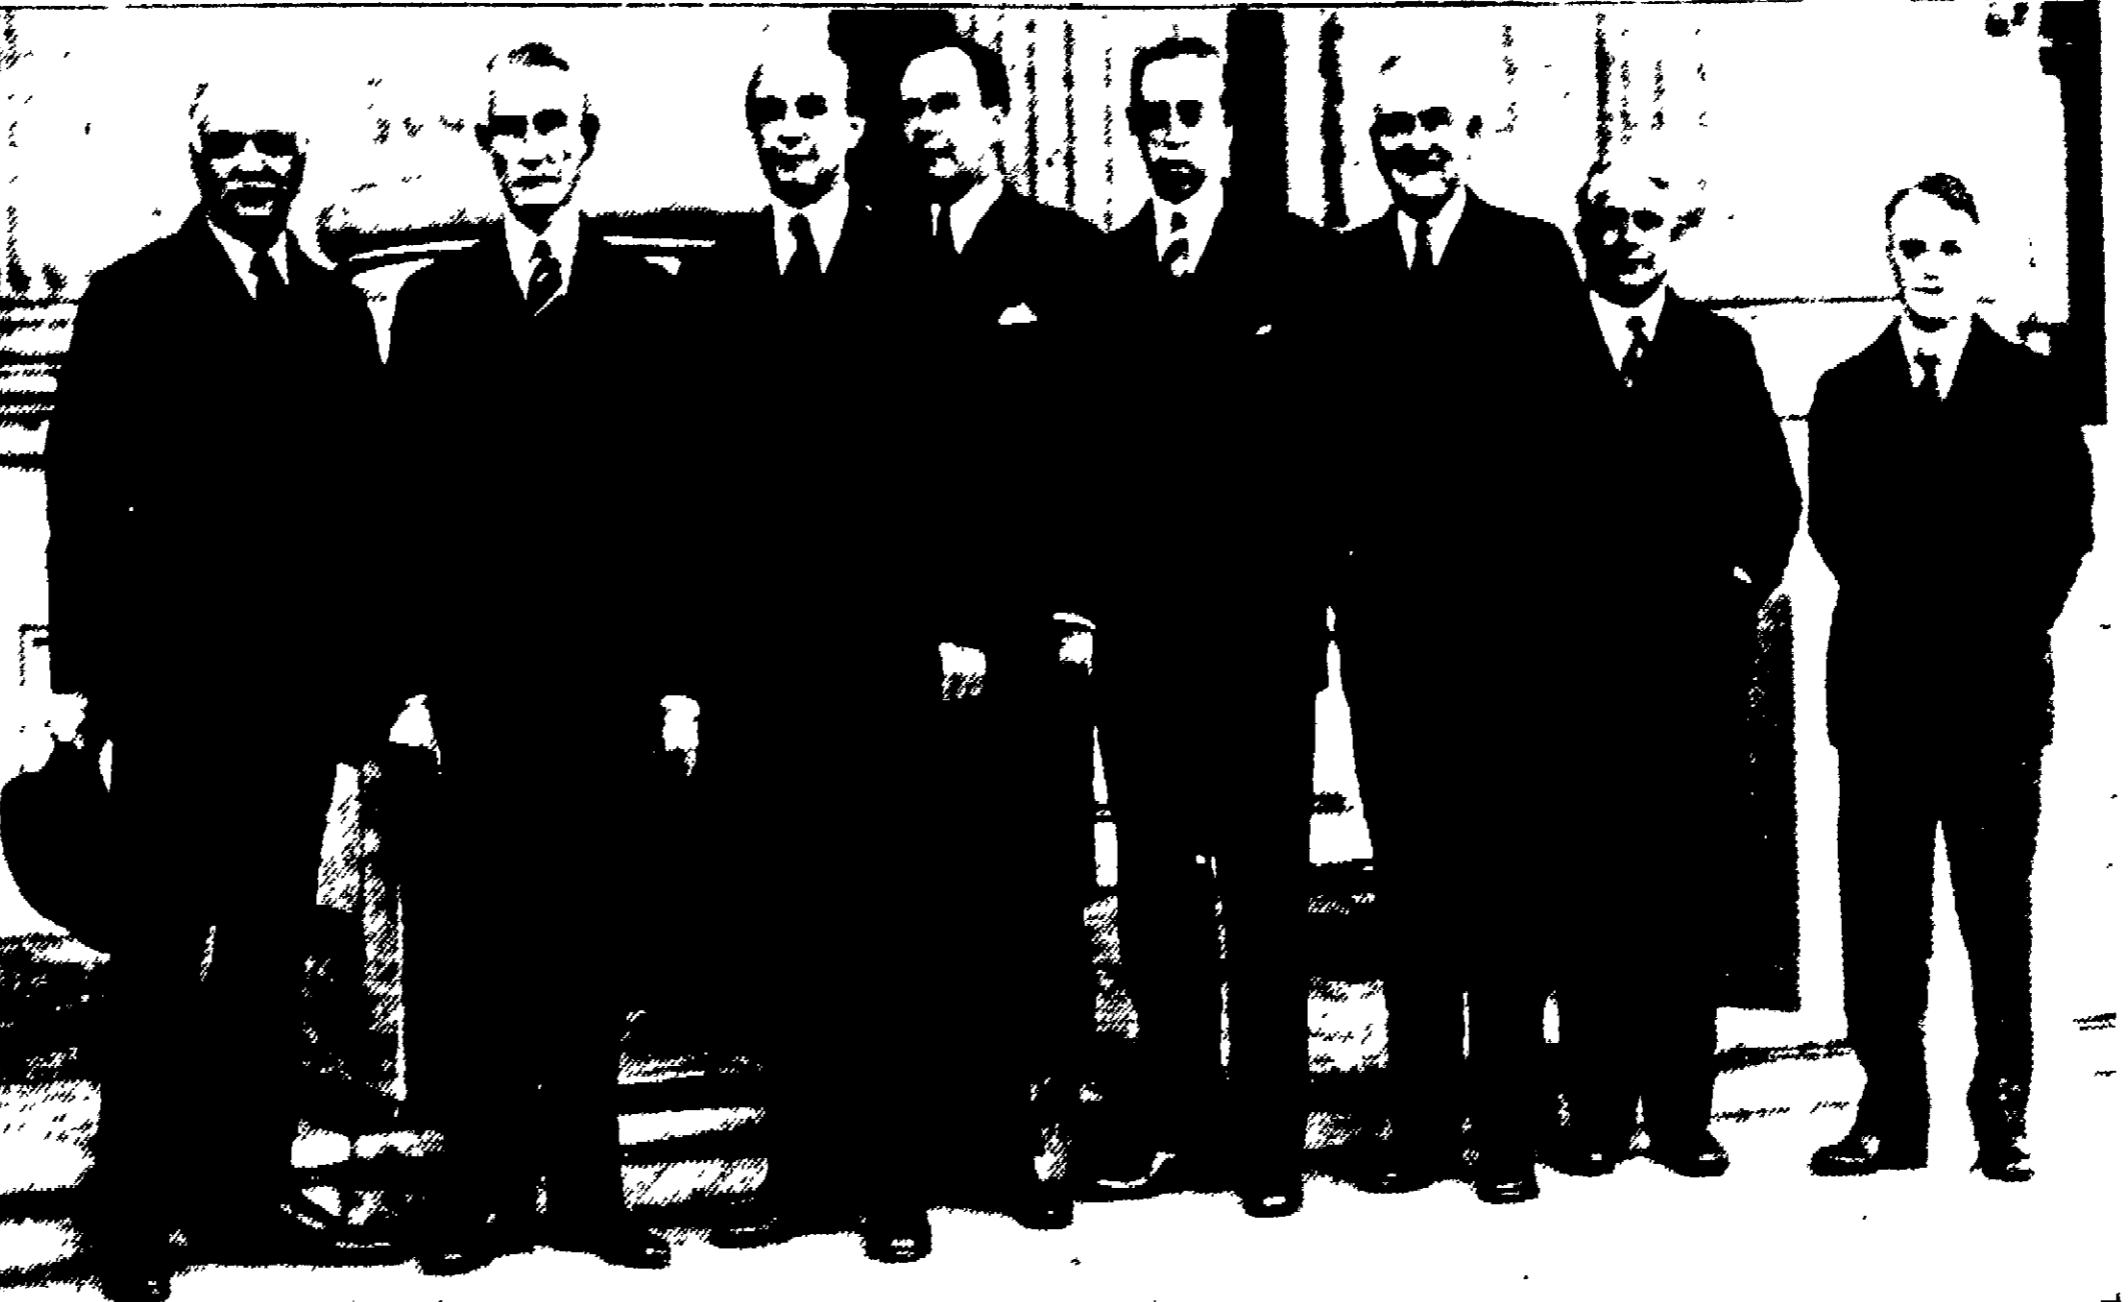

The task is too big for any private benevolent agency, no matter whether it be the Salvation Army, Y. M. C. A., Red Cross or anything else.

The army and navy know how to buy food, clothing, blankets, and distribute them getting the greatest value for money spent.

The problem is too big for little citizen committees or benevolent societies with their necessarily heavy overhead uneven and often unconsciously biased distribution.

A national problem calls for national action.

VICE-PRESIDENT CURTIS GREETED NEW MEMBERS OF THE SENATE

New members of the United States Senate posed on the steps of the capital after being welcomed to Congress by Vice-President Charles Curtis. Left to right: Curtis, Ben Williamson, Kentucky; George McGill, Kansas; Robert J. Bulley, Ohio, William E. Brock, Tennessee, Robert D. Cary, Wyoming; James J. Davis, Pennsylvania, and Dwight W. Morrow, New Jersey. All except Brock are new to the Senate this session, he assumed office by appointment last season.

general sales tax, and any increase of truck license fees except for public utility trucks and busses.

Another resolution passed yesterday reads in part as follows:

that we extend to the city of Marion, the Chamber of Commerce, the Presbyterian church, the Y. M. C. A., The Marion Star, county officials for use of the court house, and the Future Farmers of America band, and citizens of Marion and Marion county our appreciation of their welcome and reception; the mayor for his words of greeting and privileges which were accorded us.

"Also, we express our thanks to the local committee and all those who have contributed materially to the splendid success of the annual meeting.

"We tender our hearty appreciation to S. B. Stowe of Marion and the Marion county granges for their entertaining and instructing rendition of the pageant, 'Patrons of Husbandry.' We congratulate Marion and Delaware county degree and installation teams for their splendid degree work."

Taber Speaks

National Grange Master Taber appeared a short time on the closing program to discuss "Agriculture's New Day." Needed legislation to give agriculture a "square deal" and relief from unjust taxes were the two principal topics brought out by Taber's address.

Mr. Taber said in part, "Organization in business, the development of new machinery and new methods of production, chain distribution and chain finance bring agriculture face to face with changing conditions in a new day."

"Agriculture can hold its own only by organization, cooperation and equality in legislation."

A committee of Marion county grangers which made most of the arrangements for the convention was made up of E. A. Williams, deputy grange master for Marion county, and the masters of the subordinate granges of the county.

They are L. B. Fidler, master of Marion county Pomona grange; John F. Ruth of United grange; W. W. Klingel of Whitestone grange; Charles McLeffey of Bethlehem grange; Carl Murphy of Timnoch grange; Everett Harris of Bowling Green grange; Earl H. Miller of Montgomery grange; Henry Hartung of Mt. Big fish that didn't get away was the theme song of the story when John Barrymore, Dolores Costello, and their very young daughter came home recently from a cruise of two and one-half months off the Mexican coast. Barrymore had a touch of tropical fever, but that, he said, was quite unimportant as compared with the fact that he caught a 560-pound striped marlin.

Flashes of Life

BIG RAPIDS, Mich.—Names of coeds at Ferris Institute caught petting are to be revealed at public assemblies, President Wells D. White announces.

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Signs prohibiting smoking in corridors of the administration building at the University of Missouri have been ordered removed. President Walter Williams has found there is no rule against it.

NEW BERN, N. C.—Christmas weddings are free. Miss Pauline Harrington, Justice of the peace, has offered to tie nuptial knots without charge for the rest of the year.

BERLIN—There are restrictions on early eye-openers. Sale of hard liquor excepting sealed bottles has been forbidden in Prussia between 8 a. m. and 9 a. m.

BALTIMORE, O.—Yes, there is such a place and it's not a railroad. It's a town, the Siamese twin of the town of Basil, O. They are joined by a street which runs through them. The census disclosed no diminution in their likeness. Baltimore has 720 population. Basil 716.

ISTANBUL, Turkey—Children are to play where ladies of the harem once took the air. Yildiz palace, with its park, place of Sultan Abdul Hamid, has been rented by the city for $1,000 a year. The park is to be a playground. A syndicate once went bankrupt trying to make a gambling casino out of the place.

RESIGNS POST

Miss Melvina Summers has resigned as accompanist for the Canto club. Miss Dorothy Briggs, assistant pianist, has assumed Miss Summer's position. Miss Summers was unable to carry on her work as accompanist because of conflicting duties with her classes in piano.

To Sponsor Benefit Bridge

PLANS were made to sponsor a benefit bridge, the latter part of January at the meeting of Captain William Hardwick chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, last night at the home of Mrs. Jay H. Marsh of King avenue. Hostesses were Mrs. Ethel Hunt, Mrs. W. S. Harvey, Miss Helen Kramer and Miss Carl Leinen. Plans for the benefit will be in charge of members of the finance committee of which Mrs. George E. Frank is chairman.

The program included a talk on easier烹飪 by Mrs. George D. Copeland and a Christmas story.

Watrous. The members sang Christmas carols led by Mrs. Clarence E. Rutherford with Mrs. Elizabeth Coulter presiding at the piano. Miss Jeanne Bush of Ann Arbor, Mich., a guest of Mrs. Paul Hoch, was a visitor. The next meeting will be Jan. 8 at which time delegates to the state conference and national conference will be nominated.

Entertains Guests
at Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. Arthur C. Purratt entertained a number of friends at a bridge luncheon Thursday at her home at 793 South Prospect street. A color note of ivory and gold was carried out in the decorations of the table which was centered with a bowl of yellow flowers and lighted with yellow tapers in gold candle holders. The hostess was assisted by her niece, Miss Virginia

Charlton, and Miss Edna Bodley. Awards of cards were presented. Mrs. Hayes Rogers and Mrs. Paul Hoch, Mrs. Carl W. Siffert was present.

W. A. W. Club
Enrolls New Member

Miss Mary B. Pleasant was enrolled as a new member when members of the W. A. W. club held their annual Christmas party last night at Ringers Inn. Red carnations held in a silver vase and red candles in silver holders carried out an attractive decorative effect for the dinner. During a short business session Miss Doris Jacob, president, outlined the plan for the year and appointed Miss Lillian Black and Mrs. H. P. Goodliffe to serve as a committee in charge of the charity work of the club. Mrs. J. F. Neidhart was

SHOPPING RACKET
HITS LOCAL STORES

Victimize One Merchant in Questionable Check Deal.

A merchant was victimized by a successful operator of shopping "racket" on Wednesday night.

Today morning articles were found on the front porch of Mrs. Young residence on Prospect street. A electric iron, an electric can of paint, etc. were the "gifts."

It was revealed the articles were sold by two men who were actually successful in a "racket" on the man.

A victim of the racket was the Brown auto supply store and Church streets.

They had ordered a bicycle for Mrs. Young's residence. Wednesday morning a check for $100 was given a check for $100 was pocketed $8 change.

The man was discovered to be a Negro. The men have disappeared.

While visiting the Brown auto supply store on Prospect street ordering an electric iron, paint brushes, etc. the bill came to $14. When the man paid a check, Blumenauer was suspicious and told him he did not have enough money to cash the check. They ordered the merchandise delivered and left more the richer.

They barely escaped apprehension when they went to the Brown auto supply store to cash a check. They left without cashing the check. They left without cashing the check.

MINORS PLAN TO CHALLENGE MAJORS

SMALLER CIRCUITS HOPE TO THREATEN DIAMOND SUPREMACY

American Association, Coast, International Leagues To Buck Big Loops

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Confidence in the future of the American Association is reflected in the attitude of its president, Mr. George H. Stirling, toward the proposal to ban the minor leagues from the National League and the National League from the minor leagues.

Charles H. Stirling, president of the San Francisco section of the Pacific Coast League, has no objection to the proposal, but he is not in favor of it. He believes that the minor leagues should be allowed to continue, but not bypassing them in the major leagues. "Maybe the business camp has hit the minors too. On all sides are heard demands for a certain place for a particular player, and that is impossible to compete with equal rights with the two major leagues."

The program that the minors propose to achieve this is founded on a fourfold plan:

First, the minors must have some sort of court of final arbiters such as is represented now in the person of Kenneth M. Landis, high councilor of baseball.

Second, the big minors must adopt toward the smaller minors the same attitude the majors have in the past in the way of leadership and help.

Third, the big minors must see that in order to protect their own investments, they may offer financial and material assistance to leagues of smaller classifications.

Fourth, the minors particularly the class AA circuits, must build themselves up in the next three or four years to the point where they can offer themselves to the public as new major league circuits.

Will Hold Stars

Stirling pointed out that the three class AA organizations have a far wider distribution than the majors. Covering as they do the country from the east coast to the west, he believes that the big minors, by keeping them stars instead of sell them to the majors, can develop within a few years to leagues of major classification, in fact if not in name.

Majors May Retali ate

The majors, on the other hand perhaps will see to it that certain class A leagues are strengthened to AA standards and then select

STIRBLING TO RISK STANDING IN BATTLE WITH IOWA FIGHTER

Griffiths Has Everything To Cain, Nothing To Lose
in Bout.

By WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—W. L. "Young" Stirbling of Marion, Ill., will risk his pre-eminence as challenger for the world heavyweight championship against the ambitious charge of Tuffy Griffiths, Sioux City, Ia., youth, in the Chicago stadium tonight before $100,000 worth of trade.

If the waging—which is largely of the "shadow" variety—is an indication of the probable outcome, Stirbling's record will contain another victim. He was a prohibitive, 2 to 1 favorite today.

Stirbling's standing along the heavyweight of first rank—due largely to his decisive knockout victories over Otto Von Porat, Phil Scott and K. O. Christner, which have made the fans overlook his less impressive bouts. His one round knockout of Von Porat occurred in his last Chicago engagement. Griffiths, who is regarded as a home town boy, also has plenty of admirers.

The Georgian, with more than 200 fights behind him, a knockout and everything at stake tonight, will be after a knockout. He realizes his record as far more impressive than Griffiths' but he also knows that the tough one has made his most convincing showings against good fighters. Stirbling has not worked as hard as Griffiths but was in shape when he reached Chicago two weeks ago. He expected to weigh around 190.

Griffiths has everything to gain and not much to lose. He has worked himself into his finest condition.

PADDOCK MARRIED

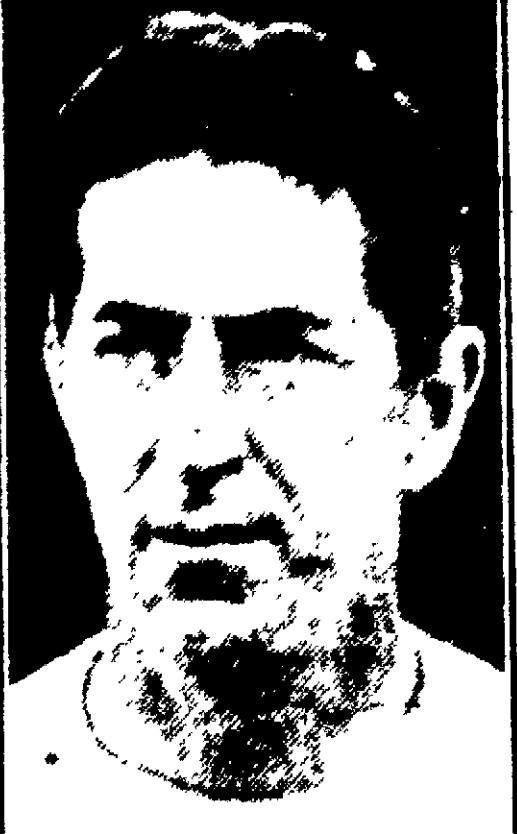

By International News Service

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 12—Charles W. Paddock, famous sprinter, and the former Mrs. Neva Pritch Malaby, daughter of Charles H. Pritch, Pasadena and Long Beach newspaper publisher, were honeymooning today following their marriage here last night.

Marysville is also rumored as a prospective member of the new circuit. The exact personnel of the loop has not been named but it may include Alvin Wapakoneta, Van Wert and Celina. Bellefontaine and Marysville would boost the number in the league to six. Two more teams may be added.

CRIMSON COACH

Edward L. Casey, Harvard's backfield coach for the last two seasons, has been promoted to head coach of the Crimson's 1931 football season. Casey succeeded Arnold L. Horween who resigned to give more attention to his business interests in Chicago.

Stagg Reveals Age of Notre Dame Grid Coach

By The Associated Press

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 12—

In case Knute Rockne's age was not known, Coach A. A. Stagg, Sr.

of the University of Chicago has turned it off, at least approximately.

At the annual testimonial banquet given last night by the Notre Dame alumni club of the St.

Joseph valley, Mr. Stagg said

Rockne was about a year old, when he—Stagg—started coaching.

The grand old man of the midway last season coached his thirty-nine-

Maroon team.

"And," said Mr. Stagg, "I haven't had a national championship winner yet."

KENTON, Dec. 12—An overwhelming 48 to 4 victory marked the opening of the season for the newly organized Knights of Columbus team of Kenton last night when they met the Marion K. C.'s at the St. Anthony Institute auditorium. The game from the start was Kenton's, the local players completely outplaying the visiting crew.

GANTS SIGN BENDER

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 12—Mr. Childer, one of the oldest of old-time pitchers, is going south with the New York Giants next spring but not to pitch. He has been signed as a special pitching instructor for Roy Parma, young right hander. Parma has lots of stuff but his control is bad. Manager John McGraw thinks Bender can show him his faults.

KENTON TO OPPOSE ARMY-NAVY READY FOR TOUGH BATTLE

Bill Ingram Thinks Cadets Too Strong for Middle Eleven.

By CHRISTIAN "RED" CAGLE

L. N. S. Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 12—The Army and Navy today were in new headquarters closer to the point of concentration—Yankee Stadium. The Penn and Army lines however, are at two greatly different concentrations. The Army personnel holding the forward position is composed of veterans of many contests but only Captain Humber has seen action against the Navy at that.

Major Sasse has established a camp at Briar Cliff Lodge while Bill Ingram has harbored the Middle elevens at the Commodore hotel.

It's the day before the battle. The men only have time for a few last-minute instructions and the important task of keeping the men in the proper frame of mind. That's the big problem.

The Navy will be playing its first game of the present season and incidentally the first game under the direction of Dewey Bohyer, succeeded by Baldy Cumpson who is now directing the cage squad at Wittenberg college. St. Mary's will be playing the second game of the year, having already defeated the Sidney Holy Angels two weeks ago.

May Start Lettermen

It is considered probable that Bohyer will start a team composed largely of lettermen of last season although he has not named any starting lineup as yet. He has five 1929 lettermen available for play in Clay, Morgan, Merkle, Smith and Bush and also has two experienced men in Pickrel and Lindsey.

Some men now on the squad who did not play last year may break into the first string lineup soon but the experience of the above named is expected to gain for them the call at the start of tonight's battle.

Kenton High is expected to start the same line-up that has already won one and lost one game. Lima St. Rose was a victim of the Wildcats but Marysville trounced them 32 to 15 and Aurora and Friedel will be at the pivot posts with Clark at the center. Fox and Boffo are expected to start the game at the guards.

Forward Fact

Of these five, Aurora is the one who Kenton critics say is booked to be the toughest man on the floor for the home team. Aurora is reputed to be fast and a clever floor worker in addition to being a fairly accurate shot. First string substitutes for the Kenton team includes Jordan and Bowers.

The Betties have purchased four seats, and they will watch half of the game from each side of the field to preserve neutrality.

TO PLAY MARSHALL

ATHENS, O., Dec. 12—Ohio University's basketball schedule was increased to seventeen games for the winter months when Athletic Director O. C. Bird announced that Marshall College, of Huntington, W. Va., will appear at Athens Jan. 28. It will be the first time in many years that Marshall has appeared here in basketball. Coach B. T. Grover announced at the same time that Ray Hart, Marietta forward, had given up basketball for the season in order to devote more time to studies. Jerry Warshaw, Brooklyn, N. Y., is now the only letterman Coach Grover has available.

SINCLAIR SELLS HORSES

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 12—Knute Rockne and his all-star rambling rambler arrived in New York today. The "gridiron magician" is bringing on one of the greatest collections of individual stars ever gathered together. They give battle to Tim Mara's New York Giants at the Polo grounds on Sunday in a game for the benefit of the jobless.

Adam Walsh, leader of the four horsemen and seven mules, will play center on the all-star Notre Dame team. He is one of the greatest pivotmen of all times.

Cleveland Cheerful as He Goes to Execution

By United Press
CHICAGO. Dec. 12.—A few hours after he had remarked that he "felt like a million bucks," William Lehnert of Cleveland walked steadily to the electric chair in the county jail early today and was electrocuted for the murder of a cafe owner during a holdup on June 10, 1929.

He spent his last hours playing cards, ate two hearty meals, and was visited by his mother, Mrs. Kulia Glicka, 60, who was acquitted Wednesday on charges of helping him in a recent attempt to break jail.

ERIE INSTALS NEW TYPE FLASHER LIGHT

Signal Warns Motorists of Approach of Trains With 2,500 Feet.

As a safety measure and an additional means of indicating to highway traffic the approach of trains, the Erie railroad has installed at what is known as Mainfield road, west of the station at Pavonia, a modern flash light crossing signal.

This new signal, which in addition to standard crossing signs, will flash red upon the entrance of a train into the circuit at a distance of 2,500 feet from the crossing and will continue flashing until the train has cleared. Particular attention has been called to the fact that if the signal continues to flash after a train has passed, it is an indication that another train is approaching. Records indicate that many accidents are caused by motorists and others failing to wait until they are sure that a second train is not approaching even after one has passed, the second train possibly moving in the opposite direction to the first in locations where there are two or more tracks.

CHAPTER 28

Fanny Demands Her Baby
DAVID did not hear the several months that Fanny was not in Europe with Bob Daniels, it was longer still before he learned that she had never been there.

It is true that Fanny had separated from her husband and his sisters that same day. Leon, his wife, however, had given David this information on Mrs. Farnham's behalf. But since David had forbidden his mother to mention his wife, Mrs. Farnham, reluctantly kept silent. She and all her family, including Leon, were convinced of Fanny's fault. Who risk raising the issue in Fanny's mind?

At any rate, David must be protected from possible contamination by her in that regard, and it is a divorce.

Amelia, David's mother, was Fanny's side, Fanny's station this was in Moscow with her husband and did not hear of the tragedy for at least a month. Apparently she took it dreadfully to heart, wrote letter after letter to David, telling nothing to Fanny. David, after gazing at the first one or two, turned them over to his mother, who read them and threw them in the fire. The letters to Fanny, sent before to her old address, were torn without being read.

Amelia submitted for the time, but her mother had a suspicion that Leon had written something she would not admit. Finally Amelia Princess Margaret of Greece, eldest daughter of Prince Andrew of Greece and Princess Alice of Battenberg, whose engagement to the hereditary Prince Gottfried von Hohenlohe-Langenburg has just been announced. Princess Margaret, who is 25 years old, is a niece of Prince Christopher, who married the late Mrs. W. B. Leeds.

not last long. He instructed Mr. Philbrick to send Fanny word that checks of hers up to $3,000 a year always would be honored at the bank.

Then, as far as was humanly possible, he closed his mind to thoughts of her. He had to put her out of his mind if he was to go on living. He had to bathe down the remembrances that Fanny had come back to him that last morning, begging him to believe in her innocence. And he, in his rage and jealousy, had sent her away. Guilty then or not, she had come back to him, had thrown herself on his mercy—and he had not kept nor protected her.

Now her life was spoiled. She was no longer fit to be trusted with her child. But his the equal guilt!

In those first months of her separation Fanny was frightened, wildly uncontrollable, wildly despairing but far from repentant or submissive. Leon was frantic with her for refusing to take David's money, and going instead to work as a saleswoman in a ten-cent store. David would not like that. His mother would not like it. They would never think the same of Fanny again—she must not do it. "But I've got to think of my self-respect of some importance?"

Fanny finally moved to a cheap apartment house. Left to herself she attempted to rally the remnants of her courage. She would fight for her baby at all costs. As long as there was breath in her body she would not sign away her rights to her little daughter. A judge would not be such a fiend, a jury so incredibly malevolent, as to separate a mother altogether from her child.

After days of cogitation she wrote Mr. Philbrick that David could have his freedom; that she wanted no alimony but must have Sheila at least half of each year. Mr. Philbrick replied that Sheila must stay with her father's people, that David would much prefer to sue for divorce on the simple grounds of desertion. He also made it plain exactly what would happen to Fanny if she started to contest. He reminded her that Robert Daniels on that night of their first flight had spared no pains to blaze their trail, that she finally had left for New York with him, that witnesses were plenty.

Fanny wrote back that she had everything to gain, nothing to lose. Three days later Mr. Philbrick came to New York to see her.

"So far," he told her, "we've kept the matter pretty well under cover. It would be rather a pity, wouldn't it, to have the whole affair made public property? And even a greater pity to have a little girl grow up under an ugly cloud, in an atmosphere of scandal, amid whispering neighbors? It seems to me that anyone who loved the child would consent to make a reasonable sacrifice."

"But why should I be the one to make the entire sacrifice?" Fanny pleaded. Her voice broke; already she was shaken. Mr. Philbrick pressed his advantage. He spoke feelingly of his own children, the effect on them of environment, the child's need—rather the child's right—to an untroubled childhood, to grow roots in a settled household.

Fanny bit her lip till she could taste the blood, looked away from him.

"How . . . how is Sheila?" she got theunsettled...

"If a child belongs anywhere it belongs with its mother." Fanny rare and advantages in a city like New York, where it took a considerable income to provide the right school, playmates, pastime.

Mr. Philbrick then reminded her gently that in this case David had certain tactical advantages and could hardly be expected to give them up. He touched upon the difficulties of giving Sheila the prop erty in a cheap hotel room in practice, a treatment.

I can take care of Sheila," she asked her to think. "I over matter what happened, he asked her to think. "I over

Change teaching has been for improvement as seen in the opinion of Dean F. Russell of Columbus teachers' college lecture on a speaking and teachers' inst-

clared had passed out of the picture with the horse and buggy.

Old Books Impractical

"Remember the old spelling books?" Dean Russell asked. "Crammed full of difficult words nobody ever uses. The old-time authors possibly thought the words were used but they didn't know it. They put them in exactly because they were hard to spell."

"We know about words now. Long and constant study of dispatches in daily newspapers, business letters and written pages of all kinds has made us use actual words that go into modern spelling books. Spelling has ceased to be an exhibition trial for smart pupils. It has become a useful art for everybody."

Modern Methods
Reading and arithmetic are two other subjects which have felt the influence of modern scientific investigation.

Children are now taught to read silently, swiftly and accurately for their own information. Arithmetic has also been put under the microscope. Dean Russell said, with the result that addition has been found to be made up of more than 20 different skills.

"Practice makes habit. If you practice the wrong habit, you can have something to unlearn before you can learn the right one."

"Modern teachers can tell in what skill a child is weak, and set him right. Unsolved he would remain a duffer at mathematics all his life."

In a talk before Denver university students Dean Russell predicted a time when workers will labor only three days a week, and only six hours a day. They will not start work till they are 20 years old, and will retire at 45. Standards will be far higher than anything we have attained to date, he said.

SERVE FRESH CRANBERRY SAUCE

4 cups (1 pound or quart) cranberries
2 cups water

Boil sugar and water together 5 minutes; add cranberries and boil without stirring (5 minutes is usually sufficient) until all the skins pop open. Remove from the fire when the popping stops.

For a thinner sauce, just bring water and sugar to a boil—then add berries and let them cook until they stop popping.

Send for free booklet, "Tasty Ways to Serve the Tonic Fruit."
Address, Dept. N—American Cranberry Exchange
90 West Broadway, New York City.

MAIN STREET BACK IN COURT

Arguments Heard on Motion
To Certify Records to Supreme Judges.

Whether the state supreme court will review the injunction suit brought by Llewellyn Aller, contractor, against the city of Marion in the Main street paving case will be decided by the court in the near future. Arguments were set aside the injunction on grounds made before the court this week that a court has no jurisdiction on motion to certify the records over the award of public contracts.

H. F. Butler of the new firm of Ochs & Butler represented the plaintiff when the motion was argued before the court, while City Solicitor Carton represented the city. Attorney W. P. Moloney was counsel for P. Drake & Son, the contracting firm to whom the Main street paving award was granted by Aller.

The case first was fought in common pleas court here when Judge George B. Scofield issued a permanent injunction against the city restraining the latter from awarding the contract to the Drake firm on the grounds that the Men's Lodge last night in the lodge hall. Awards for high scores were won by Mrs. Garnet Fier and Ben Siders. Other awards were presented Mrs. Arizona Duffey, Ray Mitchell, Elmer Temple and Ben Siders. Prizes were made for another card party in one week.

JUDGE HEARS BANK MOTION

Takes Dismissal Action Under Advisement; Demurral Filed in Case.

Special to The Star

BUCKEY, Dec. 12—U. S. Circuit Judge J. Weston Wright left Bucyrus afternoon to take under advisement the suit by A. F. Lasker, receiver of the Marion National bank of Marion seeking the original further procedure in an action brought by A. M. McManus, stockholder, director of the institution against the finance committee and director.

Miss Volk was the witness who took the stand yesterday and was questioned at length by Carl Gugel, attorney for the receiver. The defense attorney, George L. Leonard, of Toledo, and Mr. L. C. Bradley, of Bucyrus, conducted the defense.

KENTON—Funeral services of Miss Lila Parke, who dropped dead following a gallbladder operation, were held yesterday morning at the Bradley Mortuary, tomorrow afternoon. Interment will be made in Grove cemetery.

FORIST—The Business Men's club of Forest celebrated the 17th annual football game. The visitors lost at a banquet.

MT. GILEAD—A marriage license was issued yesterday to Frank C. Gugel and Anna M. Gugel, both of Mt. Gilead.

ASHLEY—Mrs. Flossie Osborne reported to the office of the bank with a check.

Shortly before the case opened Gilbert L. Steffer, Frank W. Fifer, Ernest P. Klapp and J. Bacheler, who Mrs. Volk had named as defendants, on her suit to recover $266.60 filed a demurral to Miss Volk's action. In it they charged Miss Volk, among other things, with violating federal laws by failing to disclose what was going on in the bank which was forced to close with a loss of $225,000.

Two Committees Named at C. of C. Meeting

UPPER SANDUSKY, Dec. 12—Mayo S. N. Clark, A. B. Whitlow and E. F. Stephan were appointed as a nominating committee to select the officers for the ensuing year at the meeting last night of the Chamber of Commerce luncheon club. Mr. Whitney, Mayor Clark, Mr. Stephan, L. P. Artz and Charles U. Reed were appointed as a committee to make a survey of the industries of this city and ascertain if a manufacturer's exhibit of local products could be arranged sometime during the coming year.

PERFUMES IN VOGUE

Spoiled Odors Replaced By Fragrance Of Flowers, Fashion Decrees

Perfumes like clothes this year have changed their style. It is considered smart to wear floral perfume if it is adapted to your individuality than the heavier odors.

Remember the days of the Jockey club and Jockey? The mode has been returned to those days of the sweet and delicate rose, gardenia and orange blossoms that are now in the front.
